

BOYADJIAN SACHA

A romantic scene of a couple with glowing wings in a lake at night. The couple is standing in the water, embracing and kissing. The man is on the left, wearing a dark vest, and the woman is on the right, wearing a light-colored dress. Both have large, translucent, glowing wings that resemble fireflies or moths. The background is a dark blue night sky with a full moon and a string of lights. The water is dark blue with lily pads and several lit candles floating on the surface. The overall mood is magical and romantic.

THE LEGEND OF THE
LOUGH CORRIB

I

A long time ago, a young fairy named Ema and a cheerful and brave giant named Finn Corrib were living in their tribes.

The Giant's tribe Andre and the Fairy's tribe hated each other.

One day, while Ema was walking around to discover the world, she saw a big shape far away.

Wondering what it was, she went to see it.

When she arrived there, she discovered a really big person, it was a giant.

Ema was always taught that giants were bad-tempered, angry and very aggressive and dangerous creatures.

That is why she was so scared that she could not move.

The giant approached her and introduced himself.

Ema realized he was nice and was not scared anymore.

She introduced herself too and they talked for hours and said that from this day, they would meet each other every day at this place.

Soon they fell in love but they knew their love was forbidden so they hid the truth.

But one day, the father of Ema and powerful king of the fairies saw them together.

He was furious and created a magical lake that neither of them could swim in so that even though they could still talk, they would never be near each other again.

However, the giant decided to fight for his love so he started to secretly build a bridge and said that when it would be finished, they would get married in the middle of the lake.

Later, when it was finished, they met in the middle of the bridge and got married as they said. Unfortunately, the father saw them and pushed them in the lake.

They died together happily.

With time the bridge disappeared but the lake stayed.

That is why on this day, in Ireland, you can still visit the Lough Corrib, symbol of Ema and Finn Corrib's eternal love.